

MCO Notice in New Jersey

American Liberty Insurance Company has partnered with QualCare, Inc. for all New Jersey medical care associated with the treatment of work related injuries.

QualCare, owned by Cigna, is a certified Workers' Compensation Managed Care organization (WCMCO) and maintains the strongest workers' compensation network in the state. A proprietary system of healthcare providers covering all 21 counties in New Jersey, the QualCare Provider Network includes 100 acute, specialty, and rehabilitation hospitals, over 200 ambulatory surgical centers and approximately 40,000 physician and ancillary provider locations. All participating providers have been credentialed and directly contracted to provide healthcare services to injured workers at agreed upon reimbursement rates while adhering to QualCare's treatment guidelines.

How to find a QualCare participating provider:

Employees in need of medical treatment related to a workers' compensation claim may be directed to any participating provider in the QualCare Workers' Compensation Network. In order to locate a local provider or physician in a specific specialty within the QualCare Provider Network, we offer our online provider directory. This easy to navigate search tool will help employers and claims managers find all QualCare contracted providers, with filters for specialty, geographical radius, and hospital or medical group affiliation. Please refer to the following link to locate a participating provider:
